Question 10	1 pts

Be aware that the course syllabus is a contract between Student and Instructor, outlining course policies, expectations and general content. It is the instructor's responsibility to build and make available a syllabus for the course; it is the students' responsibilities to familiarize themselves with the content of the syllabus and to ask for clarification of course policies at the beginning of the semester.

By signing this contract (typing name in the answer field), you, the student, acknowledge that you have read and accept the terms of the syllabus and will thus be bound to the course policies and procedures outlined within. The student also recognizes that failure to meet the requirements as outlined within the syllabus will result in unsatisfactory fulfillment of course requirements (and may result in failure to complete the course academically).

Questions or concerns must be addressed to the Instructor before signing the contract.

Please note that sections of the syllabus may change over the course of the semester. However, the Student will be notified if/when changes to these sections take place.

STUDENT AGREEMENT: I have read and understand the course policies as outlined in the class syllabus for this course.
